LATCHMOOR, ^{Cullen}
 THE COMMON, ^{Apr 15 1913}
 GERRARD'S CROSS.

December 7th 1913.

Dear Mr. de Kászlo

I can bring to your studio the copy of the portrait of Mr. Barnsworth at any time and day that suits your convenience I would mention that the first train from here does not reach Paddington till 8.40, so that I could not be at your studio until a few minutes after 9 o'clock

I have heard nothing from Lord Curzon yet

Penny was good enough to write and tell me he had ⁿ went to see the copy on November 27th and after a careful examination he remarked that there was more gold lace on the sleeves, more fussy. than in the original

but after getting further away from the picture he seemed quite satisfied and ordered a frame.

Perhaps he will write to me when he has seen it in the frame which is to be like the one on the original. I hope as he has ordered so expensive a frame that he is satisfied with the copy

Yours sincerely

Frederick Cullen
