

7th Oct. 1917

GWYLFYA HIRAETHOG,

DENBIGH,

N. WALES.

Denton

In reply to your letter of the 5th inst. I am sorry I cannot comply with your request that I should attend the next meeting of the Committee on the 11th inst. before which Mr. Caswell's appeal will be heard, but I have a long standing engagement away from here, which it is impossible to postpone.

But as one of those who stood "sponsor" for Mr. Caswell at the time that he made his application to become a naturalised of committing any act so against this Nation's interest, with premeditation or design. He no doubt will have fully realized his foolishness in acting as he has, but if the punishment is to be adjusted to the offence I should hope that those who decide in these matters will be satisfied that he has suffered, already, enough for his transgression.

Yours Truly

Wm. Fox

R. S. G. G. G.

British subject - Several months before the outbreak of war, he it is remarked - I do not hesitate to state as my connection, founded on a long acquaintance with him, that he has always displayed a loyal friendship for England, coupled with a desire to become permanently associated with the Country of his adoption, as a subject.
From what I have recently heard, he has, unfortunately, committed what are thoroughly indiscretions, unpremeditated I believe. But to assess their gravity accurately, and fairly to Mr. Laszlo, the question of motive is all important -

In my judgment he is quite incapable
