My dear friend,

Are you remembering
that exactly a year ago, we started together from your home in London for Greece?

I had hoped to be with you to-day (but I fear it will <sup>be</sup> impossible) to thank God together for another year of mercy.

Oh, how good He was to us on that journey, for we had no accident or illness, nothing but good and glorious weather.

Thank God for it all!
To-morrow I hope to be able to take you both to see the Holy Land, Palestine.

Good God, we pray Thee, soon to bring about in mercy a righteous and lasting peace.
Look down in pity on all our soldiers and sailors, our widows and orphans, for Christ's sake! God bless you all! The old pilgrim from Jerusalem.
