

or readers to do anything that was possible -

We would have telephoned you this evening, sooner, if ever since the tyranny came Arthur
has been using the telephone for business
with the War Office,
now it is 11.30, &
too late to keep you up.
With again many thanks, Believe me
yours sincerely

Sunday evening

Dear M^r Lerglo -

I write a line
for my brother David how terribly sorry he is to have to make
yet another change -
He only arrived here at 9.45, - & during dinner he received a Telegram recalling him

at once to the camp,
so he has to leave
by the first train tomorrow morning
It is all terribly upsetting, to, & Arthur asks me to give you his deepest

apologies, but of course he was quite unable to help this sudden unexpected change of plans. - We are all
so very sorry for the great inconvenience you have been put & can only thank you very sincerely
for all your kindness.
