Dear Mr. Casals.

I hope you will not worry about things in anticipating events which may never happen especially as you appear to have misunderstood my remarks to which you refer in your letter. What I said in effect was that there was a demand which was being projected, publicly, that all naturalisations granted since the Commencement of the has shoud be withdrawn. That you have probably seen yourself in the Press.

But that such a demand will be accorded to is quite another story.
In any case legislation would be necessary & there would be opposition without doubt from many quarters.

My advice to you is to put aside any anticipation of such happenings to worry about the possibility of things eventuating in that <sup>way</sup> is unwise. If I may say so, it will do not good. Yours sincerely
D. Woodport
