

Redapest,

I. URI UTCA 64

27th August.
1926.

My dear Philipp!

Many, many thanks for your so kind letter.
It was for us all a great pleasure to hear about your new success. I will congratulate you to the most important portrait of the Archbishop of Canterbury.
The portraits of President Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge are very beautiful, but I admire very much Mellon's portrait too. In the general decadency of the world which we see every day, in every direction it is a glorious thing to know that you are better as ever, and especially your art in a period of uncertainty and decadency. We both but with me many friends are congratulating you most heartily! I am going to-morrow with the Governor of Hungary Colman Horthy, with Archbishop Joseph and Groff Franz, McKiddachy Anna, Papal Minister and Minister of Public Instruction Count Klobcsary to Uohies 1 where on the 23 of August 1526 - there are 400 years

- The King of Hungary Louis II, all the bishops and many distinguished Hungarians lost their life in the battlefield defending western culture and Christianity against the Ottomans.

Perhaps it has been wiser to be more selfish and let them to pass through Hungary to Vienna and France; — so perhaps we would have now not orrow and slavery, but seigneurages of our Country like Prussia and Servia, which Austria did not consent to the Turks.

— Of course I shall do my possible in the interests of your relation. May
