

Prisoners of War.

Mrs Lucy de La Roche

3, Palace Gate

Windsor

London W. 8.

P. C.
LOTHOUSE PARK.

Absender: — E. de Wares; 2574 Hut 8. West-Camp.
Loftlouse Park. Wakefield. York.

NICHT HIER SCHREIBEN!

Nicht zwischen die Zeilen schreiben! Sept 22nd 1918

My dearest Aunt Lucy,

I was more than usually pleased to get your very kind letter sent from B-mouth, as it conveyed the good & so long hoped news about dear Filip's basis's improved condition. It's not difficult for me to realise what the worries of the past months must have meant to you both & so I am real glad he is now better. Toorie tells me she is at present staying with you, which reminds me of the delightful days we had enjoyed together years ago. I am sure the quiet life of Bushton, & the rejuvenating rest she has had there, did my little Tom a lot of good. She was in excellent colour & looking so well when I had the joy of seeing her just four weeks ago. It's nice to hear you are going to start again playing in your musical Club, & I wish you, dear Aunt Lucy that, such merging oneself in the ideal world of Harmony may bring to you consolation & spiritual refreshment. During this year I didn't feel like playing much either but may do so later. The subject-matter of "The Lady of the Decoration" sounds certainly v. interesting, & it's kind of you suggesting to send it on to me. The allowances are regularly arriving for which please accept my heartfelt thanks. Also for the balls which, Henry will play with, some good games yet, I hope, if he is already back in London. Here it's v. stormy & almost continually what! My friend Reschophy gave a fine concert last night & just now have read with him an modern book on Music by Cyril Scott. My best wishes & love to dear Uncle P., my Tom & you all. Yours affectionately
Janet