Dear Mr László :

As you see, I have not forgotten our delicious meeting in Paris, and would be very glad to call on you and pay a visit at any time you like. My father would also very much like to meet you. I am sure you will like him, he was a cousin to poor

Primo de Rivera, and his chancellor of the exchequer finally; first having been Minister of Economy.
My father's name as you know is Count de los Andes. The Duchess del Infantado went away taking my fiancée, and we shall pick up the picture on passing through Paris.

Yours very sincerely.

Count

Paco Moreno de Herrera.

Herrera.
