

(C. de Castellane)

BRITISH EMBASSY,
PARIS.

Jan. 16th / 30.

Dear Mr. Laszlo,

Some years ago I had the pleasure of coming with my mother to luncheon with you.
I have just heard from Countess Jean de Castellane that you are in Paris, and my wife and myself would be delighted if you could come to luncheon with us either on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, preferably Wednesday, at 41 Avenue Charles Floquet at one o'clock. Please do not trouble to write a note in reply but tell the telephone operator at the Hotel d'Artois to give a message to the telephone operator at this Embassy (Elysee 37-43 et de suite).

Hoping that you will be able to come,

believe me,

Yours sincerely

V. Cavendish Sentinel.
