

7th March, 1930.

Dear Sir,

Mr. de Laszlo, who is at present abroad, has forwarded me your letter to him of February 27th, for which he thanks you, and has asked me to make enquiries regarding the publication which you have brought to his notice.

I should be extremely obliged, therefore, if you could furnish me with further details concerning this book, such as the name of the editor, if any, and also the name of the publishers. Mr. de Laszlo informs me that it is only since 1912 that he has signed himself "P. de Laszlo", and is therefore inclined to think that the signature in the book must be a forgery.

Yours faithfully,

Secretary.
