Mr. Philip de Laszlo,
Dr. F. Dengler's Sanatorium,
Baden-Baden,
GERMANY.

Dear Mr. de Laszlo,

I am happy to receive your letter of 27th August and to note that all goes well with you.

I am lucky in being here at a most unfortunate time for England, and I am observing the critical situation with interest. MacDonalld resigned this morning. It is believed here to-day that a National Government is possible, the right wing of the Socialists participating with the Conservatives and Liberals.

I am now the guest of the American Ambassador, but plan to leave England for Paris on Wednesday morning, 26th August, and shall go to the Hotel Lotti, sailing for home on the S.A. Bremen on 31st August.

I hope you have already met my friend, Countess Mercati. Please give her my best wishes. Who is at the Sanatorium? I am confident your rest will do you great good.

With best wishes,

Very truly yours,

Louis Wiley.
