Dear Sir,

I believe that the Gallery for Modern Foreign Art has no example of the work of Lucien Simon. There are at present three pictures of his at the Exhibition of the Royal Society of British Artists, and if the Tate Gallery would like to have a work by this eminent French artist, I should be happy to endeavour to acquire one for presentation to the Gallery.

Perhaps you will be good enough to let me know whether this will be acceptable, as it would be a great pleasure to me to make this small gift to the Gallery.

Believe me,

Yours faithfully,

(signed) H.S.L. GUINNESS.
