

18th May, 1933.

Dear Mrs. Lindsay,

I was very sorry to be unable to see you again before leaving your house, to thank you once again for your warm hospitality while I was staying in Oxford, which I much enjoyed.

It was certainly a most memorable evening, and I was pleased that my sons were present.

Will you kindly give my greetings to the Master, and believe me,

Yours very sincerely,