Dear Sir,

I understand from Lady Londonderry that you wish to borrow her portrait painted by you for an exhibition. The Trustees of the Imperial War Museum do not meet until the middle of next month, but I think I can authorise the loan if you will undertake to pay all transport charges and to replace picture and frame if destroyed, or if damaged to return them in the condition in which they leave the Imperial War Museum.

Yours truly,

Charles G. Smith
Curator and Secretary.
