

TRINITY COLLEGE,
CAMBRIDGE.

May 23rd, 1923

Dear Mr. de Laszlo

I am extremely sorry for my negligence in failing to let you know the train by which The Balfour portrait was to be sent off this morning. It was well packed and fully addressed, and insured, and I hope no harm will come through my forgetfulness. I was fully under the impression until this morning that I had written to you about it.

The insurance covers the picture against all risks for one month as from 9 a.m. this morning. The premium payable is 13/6, and the carriage to London was 18/7.

The following is a list of the members of the College Council, for which you asked me.

The Master
The VicerMaster
Mr. E. Harrison
Mr. W. W. Rouse Ball
Mr. F. M. Cornford
Dr. E. D. Adrian
Mr. D. S. Robertson
Mr. D. H. Robertson
Mr. R. H. Fowler
Mr. D. R. Pye
Mr. J. R. M. Butler, M.P.
Mr. H. McLeod Innes

Trinity College is a sufficient address ~~for~~ in all cases.

Yours very truly

J. Bunsby
