Dear Sir,

We thank you for your postcard of yesterday's date, and beg to inform you that the Foreign Office were unable to send the Queen of Roumania's portrait to Bucarest by King's Messenger. The Infanta Beatrice then got into touch with the Roumanian Legation with a view to its being taken out by one of their attachés, but no opportunity has yet occurred, and the portrait is still waiting at the Roumanian Legation. We shall be informed directly the picture is to be taken to Bucarest.

Regarding the reproductions of the portrait, three copies of these, framed, were taken to Bucarest some weeks ago by Prince Nicholas, and we are now completing an order for twenty of them to be sent to the Infanta Beatrice before Christmas. We will let you know when these are ready, as we presume you will be desirous of signing them.

In confirmation of our telephone conversation with Mrs. de Laszlo, we quoted the sum of twelve hundred guineas for a three-quarter length portrait to Sir Charles Markham, who did not come to the Gallery, but rang us up on the telephone.

We are, dear Sir,
Yours faithfully,

Wallis & Son. T.W.
