

WOLMER WOOD,

MARLOW COMMON,

MARLOW, BUCKS.

April 15th 1924

My dear friend

I find that there are no special shows for me to see this week so I have decided not to come up tomorrow. I am, of course, sorry to miss my weekly peep at you but perhaps you will let me come next week, instead. I am pushing on my book this week as I am anxious to get it finished — it has been hanging about much too long.

It looks more like spring here today, sunny and pleasant, but the air is still cold.

always yours

A. H. Baldry.
