Pauly dearest. I'm enclosing you a letter from "Daphne" who I presume has had an increase to her family!
Miss Knigrove sent it here.
I must tell of friends'
to write your whole name in future -

I've just been writing to Pat, & told him to stay

A big hug from you & my mother & I call at my mother's house - & love you.

Oh in Oxford 2 or 3 nights to see something of you after his exam. Dads w^d like him to do this also, as I won't be at home alas! v. much alas! I hate not being back & welcome you all.
But here we are stuck, I'm afraid till quite the end of this month. Poor Dads is amazed about it also, as it holds up our plans so - of course he wants to bring back some interesting sketches & he'll be busy in Spain!
about 10 days after he has finished his work here, in After we take from wherever also? I want young boy - kitchen but not here studying Spanish - After Aunt's the said service than the news - maid - why that he has a chance of doing something for himself.

He is absolutely exposed & in those important pictures. And the King is not altogether easy - He is delightful & friendly as poss: to Dads - but then he is "the King" & one must be all there when he is present.
Yesterday I had a "shake Lamb" from him!
He was watching his body guard file past in one of the Courts of the

Write all 3 names a head - we certainly are right lazy family! Don't do before set out at last

Palace, & Dads & I were present by special permission (Dads taking the Cinema). When the file past ended, the King came to Dads & shook hands & then to me who was standing a little way off - Then he popped into his car & drove off to lunch at a chateau in the country. He is so like duc de Grammont in figure & manner - & of course awfully like Charles V. I've been stuck in V. Chart! We are living great days here. But we'll be glad to leave Madrid - such wind & cold after a spell of mild weather! I hope Aunt he is quite pore her cold - How glad will he be when the strain of work & team will be over - Pat with them
